

Sunday Worship (April 7th 2019)

Exod 10:7 Let my people go so that they may worship the Lord their God...

Order of Service

Call to worship

Opening Hymn: O Worship the King

Praise & Worship: Pratikshya & Sonia

Birthday Prayer

Intercession

Responsive reading: 830

Offertory hymn in background

Doxology & Prayer by usher

Bible reading: Exodus 10:1-15

Sermon: Lessons from the Locust

Background Hymn in preparation for Lords Supper

The Lords Supper

Closing Hymn: Fairest Lord Jesus

Benediction & Amen

▪ Mr. Paschal, & Kobita

7th Andrew Peacock

10th Elizabeth William

13th Sougata Kundu

- 18th Maundy Thursday Communion service at 630 pm
- 19th Good Friday service at 1200 pm
- 21st Easter Baptismal service 930 am

Your problems aren't too big, perhaps your worship is too small

Lessons from the Locust

Great things come in small packages, most believers do not really recognize that their body houses the spirit of God. Spirit filled, anointed believers, its not so much that we intend to be unbelieving its just that it boggles the mind when you begin to think of the greatness of God.

When you hear the voice of the locust it teaches you something different, the ant drags his morsel of meat by himself but the locus never does anything by himself, if the church is going to learn from the locust you need to come from your individualistic attitude and begin to understand that if you are going to get this next wave of glory you cannot go in by yourself.

It can say I cannot fly and give up and quit but the locust says I can jump, it can jump 200 times its height. Are you going to jump out of your mess? Wait on the wind and when it blows propel yourself. Locusts when the wind blows the bible scholars when they talk of the wind, it is the Holy Ghost. The wind blows wherever it pleases. You hear its sound, but you cannot tell where it comes from or where it is going. So it is with everyone born of the Spirit.