Lessons from the life of David

David is at a crossroads in his life. He has been anointed to be king of Israel. Endowed with grace and power to do exploits in the kingdom of God.

What do you do when you are asking for an answer and you're going one way and God is going another way? You are trying to save what God is trying to kill, you're trying to keep what God is trying to take.

David was good at fighting external fights, give him a giant he would kill it, give him an army he would destroy it, give him a Saul he would handle it what do you do when your greatest enemy is not out there. How do you win the fight when the enemy is in you? Why is David crying over a child who isn't born, the only Man in scriptures crying over a baby perhaps the truth lies in the fact as some historians would suggest that David's own birth was questionable.
